EVS EXHIBITION

As part of the syllabus requirement, all departments of the college jointly organized a Chart Exhibition on 13th February, 2026 within the campus to promote environmental awareness and encourage students to explore sustainable solutions through research and creative presentation. Students from various departments actively participated by preparing informative charts on key environmental themes such as climate change, global warming, renewable energy, water conservation, biodiversity, pollution control, waste management, and sustainable development. Participants confidently presented their topics, explaining the causes, impacts, preventive measures, and possible solutions to environmental challenges, thereby enhancing their subject knowledge, creativity, teamwork, and presentation skills. The charts were evaluated by faculty members from the Tamil Department, who served as judges for each department and assessed the exhibits based on content accuracy, creativity, clarity, and overall presentation. The judges appreciated the students' efforts and offered constructive feedback, making the exhibition an informative and enriching learning experience for all.

ALUMNI MEET

The Alumni Meet 2026 was held with great enthusiasm on 14 February 2026, bringing together alumni from the 2014–2025 batches to reconnect and celebrate their bond with their alma mater. The event was graced by Dr. Apitha Sabapathy, Former Dean and Head, Department of Tamil, MGR Janaki College, Chennai, who delivered an inspiring address encouraging alumni to stay connected to their roots and contribute meaningfully to society and the institution. A special highlight was the presentation of the ‘Star Alumni 2026’ award to Ms. Harinipriya (BA English, 2017–2020) in recognition of her heartfelt sharing of college memories, selected based on content, expression, and sense of belonging. The programme also featured a memorable photo session with the Chief Guest, dignitaries, faculty, and alumni, and concluded on a joyful note, strengthening lifelong connections with the college.

INDUSTRIAL VISIT

The Departments of Computer Applications, Computer Science, and Mathematics organized an industrial visit to NIIT Learner Hub on 14th February 2026 to provide students with practical exposure to real-world industrial practices. The programme commenced with a warm welcome by the company representative, followed by a comprehensive presentation outlining the organization's history, services, structure, and the technologies employed in its operations. The session effectively bridged the gap between theoretical learning and industry application. An engaging interactive session with industry experts enabled students to clarify their queries regarding technical processes, essential skills, and career prospects, motivating them toward professional growth. The visit concluded with a feedback session and a vote of thanks, leaving students with valuable insights and a deeper understanding of industrial operations.

NSS SPECIAL CAMP

The National Service Scheme (NSS) Special Camp of St. Anne's Arts and Science College, Madavaram was successfully conducted from 09th February 2026 to 15th February 2026 at Vadaperumpakkam and nearby areas, beginning with an inaugural function presided over by the Principal, Dr. I. Annammal Arputhamary, who emphasized the significance of community service, leadership, and social responsibility among students. Throughout the seven-day camp, NSS volunteers actively engaged in various community-oriented activities including cleanliness drives at the Samuthaya Koodam, pond areas, roads, and public spaces, along with awareness initiatives on waste management and hygiene. The volunteers extended their service to Vadaperumpakkam Adi Dravidar Thodakapalli by cleaning classrooms, whitewashing walls, and organizing competitions for school children. A Drug Awareness Rally, fact-checking awareness programme, and social message wall drawings were conducted to educate the public and promote responsible citizenship. Environmental initiatives such as a tree plantation drive near the village pond were carried out, coupled with awareness on ecological conservation. A Free Medical Camp was also organized, providing basic health check-ups, consultations, and medicines to villagers, while promoting preventive healthcare practices. The camp concluded on the seventh day at Vadapetupakkam with cultural programmes and a valedictory function, where the NSS Programme Officer presented a summary of activities and the Chief Guest appreciated the volunteers' dedication. Overall, the camp was highly impactful, fostering teamwork, discipline, and a strong sense of social commitment among students while positively contributing to the community.

GOLDEN JUBLIEE CELEBRATION

The Golden Jubilee Celebration of our Chairperson Rev. Mother Dr. Leema Rosario was joyfully celebrated on 16 February 2026, marking a significant milestone filled with gratitude and happiness. The occasion was made special with a delightful feast arranged for both students and staff, featuring delicious biryani served with sweet, brinjal curry, and onion raita, while vegetarian students were thoughtfully provided with equally flavourful vegetable biryani and the same accompaniments. Before the distribution of the meal, Rev. Mother addressed the students with warmth and affection, reminding them of their value and expressing her deep care and concern, reflecting a truly motherly love. Students and staff relished the food wholeheartedly, enjoying not only the taste but also the spirit of togetherness and celebration, making the day memorable and filled with joy, gratitude, and a strong sense of belonging.

BUILD YOUR FIRST APP WITH FLUTTER – KNOWLEDGE SHARING SESSION

The Department of Computer Applications organized a workshop titled “Build Your First App with Flutter” on 18.02.2026 for II BCA students. The session was conducted by Ms. Kaviya S, a III BCA student, with the objective of introducing participants to mobile application development using Flutter and Dart programming developed by Google. She explained the basics of Flutter, including widgets, layout structure, and UI components, and guided students through a hands-on demonstration to create a simple mobile application with an AppBar, text, image, and button interaction. Students were also introduced to alignment, padding, and the Hot Reload feature. The interactive session helped students gain foundational knowledge of cross-platform app development and concluded with a discussion to clarify doubts, making it an informative and useful learning experience.

GREEN AUDIT

The Green Audit of the college for the past three academic years was conducted on 18th February 2026 by a Dr. M. Suresh Gandhi, Professor and Head, Centre for Environmental Sciences, University of Madras, Guindy Campus to evaluate the institution's environmental sustainability practices. The audit reviewed key areas such as energy consumption, water management, rainwater harvesting, waste segregation, plastic reduction, green cover maintenance, and environmental awareness initiatives. Campus facilities, records, and eco-friendly measures were carefully examined, and the efforts of the institution in maintaining a clean, green, and sustainable environment were highly appreciated. The auditor also offered constructive suggestions for further improvement, affirming the college's strong commitment to environmental responsibility and sustainable development.

EDITOR'S BLUEPRINT WORKSHOP

The Department of Computer Applications organized the Editor's Blueprint Workshop on 20th February 2026, with Ms. Harsha Vardhini V, Alumni of the Department who is pursuing her higher studies as the resource person. She introduced the basics of editorial planning and structured content development, highlighting the importance of clarity, consistency, and proper formatting in the editing process. The session also included a practical demonstration of the Canva editor, where students learned to design and edit content using various tools, templates, layout options, text formatting features, and visual enhancements. The hands-on approach enabled students to gain practical knowledge in creating professional and visually appealing content effectively.

ORAL HEALTH AND OVERALL WEL BEING

The Department of Microbiology, St. Anne's Arts and Science College, organized an awareness guest lecture on 20th February 2026 on the topic "Oral Health and Overall Well-being" to educate students about the importance of oral hygiene and its connection to general health. The session was delivered by Dr. R. Savitha Lakshmi, Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeon from Sree Balaji Dental College and Hospital under Bharath Institute of Higher Education and Research, Chennai, who provided detailed insights into common oral health issues such as dental caries, gum diseases, and infections, along with their treatments including scaling, fillings, root canal procedures, orthodontic care, and preventive measures. She emphasized good daily habits like proper brushing, flossing, regular dental check-ups, balanced nutrition, and avoiding harmful practices. Extending the discussion to overall well-being, she highlighted the importance of road safety measures to prevent maxillofacial injuries and cautioned students about excessive mobile phone usage, explaining its impact on mental health, concentration, sleep, and academic performance, while encouraging digital discipline and healthy lifestyle balance. The interactive session enabled students to clarify their doubts, and the program concluded successfully with positive feedback, inspiring participants to adopt healthier oral care practices and maintain overall physical and mental well-being.

Overall, the session was highly enriching and provided meaningful direction for leading a purposeful and value-oriented life.

GUEST LECTURE ON SHAKESPEARE STUDIES

The Guest Lecture on Shakespeare Studies was conducted successfully on 23rd of February for the benefit of the students. The resource person provided an insightful overview of William Shakespeare, highlighting his life, the Elizabethan age, and the historical influences that shaped his writings. The session covered the major genres of his works—tragedies, comedies, histories, and romances—with illustrations from renowned plays such as Hamlet, Macbeth, Othello, and The Merchant of Venice. Key themes including ambition, love, power, jealousy, fate, betrayal, and human nature were clearly explained with relevant examples. The speaker also emphasized dramatic techniques like soliloquy, aside, imagery, symbolism, and characterization, enabling students to better understand Shakespeare's literary craftsmanship. An interactive question-and-answer session helped clarify doubts regarding examination writing, character analysis, and scene interpretation. The lecture concluded with words of encouragement, motivating students to read Shakespeare critically and appreciate his enduring relevance, making the session highly informative and academically enriching.

ELOCUTION CONTEST

The Department of Business Administration, in association with the Anti-Drug Club, organized an Elocution Contest on 23 February 2026 at the II BBA classroom to create awareness about the harmful effects of drug abuse. The programme began with a welcome address, followed by a pledge on drug awareness where students committed to promoting a drug-free lifestyle. Students actively participated in poetry recitations in both Tamil and English on the theme “Say No to Drugs,” delivering powerful messages against addiction. A motivational speech highlighted the physical, mental, and social consequences of drug use, encouraging students to make responsible choices. The elocution contest saw enthusiastic participation, with students speaking on various topics related to drug prevention and youth empowerment. The event concluded with a vote of thanks, appreciating the efforts of the organizers, participants, and faculty members. Overall, the programme was informative, engaging, and successful in spreading awareness about the importance of a healthy, drug-free life.

NATIONAL SCIENCE DAY

The Department of Microbiology at St. Anne's Arts and Science College celebrated National Science Day on 25th February 2026 with great enthusiasm by organizing a Poster Competition titled "AI Med Tech 2026," highlighting the transformative role of Artificial Intelligence in medical science and drug discovery. Students from various Science Departments actively participated, with BCA and B.Sc. Computer Science students presenting on "AI in Human Health," showcasing applications in diagnostics, patient care, and healthcare management. Microbiology students from all years formed nine groups and presented innovative posters and working models on emerging topics such as AI in drug development and preparation, AI-based clinical trial screening, virtual screening methods, antimicrobial and de novo drug designing, and the future of AI-driven microbiological research. The presentations reflected strong research orientation, teamwork, and scientific understanding. Dr. Shoba Gunasekaran, Assistant Professor, Department of Biotechnology, D.G. Vaishnav College, Chennai, served as the Resource Person and commended the students for their confidence, clarity, and interdisciplinary approach, encouraging them to pursue research integrating biology and technology. The program concluded successfully with positive feedback, inspiring students to explore the expanding scope of Artificial Intelligence in microbiology and healthcare while truly embodying the spirit of National Science Day.

LAPTOP DISTRIBUTION - ULAGAM UNGAL KAIYIL

The Laptop Distribution Programme ‘Ulagam Ungal Kaiyil’ was conducted on 11 March 2026 at the Mother Gnanamma Auditorium with a sense of purpose and encouragement for the second year students. The event was presided over by Rev. Mother Dr. Leema Rosario, Chairperson of the college, who handed over the laptops to the students, symbolically presenting them as a key to their digital future and academic advancement. In her address, she emphasized the importance of time, discipline, and obedience at this crucial stage of life, guiding the students to remain focused and responsible. She advised them to use the laptops wisely for their educational growth and not to get distracted by unproductive activities. Her words carried a deep personal touch, as she spoke to the students like a mother to her daughters, offering heartfelt guidance and care. Truly, she stands as a motherly figure to thousands of girl children, nurturing not only their education but also their character and values. The students responded positively to the guidance given during the programme and expressed their sincere gratitude for the opportunity. They assured that they would use the laptops responsibly for their educational advancement, uphold discipline, and remain focused on their goals, making the best use of this valuable support for their future.

NAPKIN AWARENESS SESSION

The Red Ribbon Club organized a Napkin Awareness Session on 11 March 2026 on the college campus in connection with the celebration of Women's Day, with the objective of promoting awareness about menstrual hygiene and healthy practices among students. The session was conducted by Dr. Johnsy J, who served as the resource person and provided detailed insights into the importance of menstrual hygiene, the safe use of sanitary napkins, and the need to overcome myths and misconceptions related to menstruation. Students actively participated in the session, clarified their doubts, and were encouraged to speak openly and confidently about menstrual health. The programme was highly informative and impactful, promoting better awareness and understanding among students. It concluded successfully with a message urging students to spread awareness and support the health and well-being of women, reflecting the true spirit of International Women's Day.
